

Hey you! Resort season is upon us. We are lucky we get beautiful weather all year round here in Los Angeles, but the rest of our friends outside of LA are suffering. So, we've put together a collection of outfits for your wonderful vacation getaway to somewhere a little nicer. If you're going to the Bahamas or Hawaii or even old reliable Florida, we've got the looks that'll keep you fresh from the tarmac to the pool.

Let's start by saying there's an unspoken fashion rule that goes like this. When you're on vacation pull out all the stops and let yourself go. We aren't talking about the buffet, we're talking about your clothes. Some of us aren't always as confident as we should be. Girl, you're beautiful and the world can see it. So here on vacation, it's time to step out of your box and see what works for you. Don't worry, the lifeguard will still stare at you. So try something new, something a little tighter or more revealing. Your date will thank you later(wink). But just try it, this collection of outfits are our picks for your packing list and we've got everything besides the suitcase.

Let's start with the airplane. I don't know about you, but I'm always at a loss for what to wear on the plane. Wanting to be cozy yet looking fierce at the same time is a lot of pressure. We get it and we hear you, so we've put together two looks that'll be perfect wherever you go. So tray tables up seats forward, it's takeoff.

We've hit the rooms, the kids are, honestly, I don't know and kind of don't care. But it's time for me time. The pool looks amazing, the sun is out and my hand needs a Bloody Mary. Well, Bleu has done it
